{ WATCHES OF THE YEAR } ○

The incredible legacy of Harry Winston, New York's King of Diamonds, continues apace as the global brand won three prizes at the prestigious World Watch Awards.

The Haute Horlogerie specialist beat off competition from the likes of Cartier, Bulgari, Dior, TAG Heuer and Greubel & Forsey to take the Best Concept Watch award and a coveted Watch of the Year commendation for its revolutionary Opus 12 timepiece.

The limited edition sequel to the Opus XI displays a bombastic 600-part movement. The hands are aligned to the periphery so time is told from the outside in. Best of all, the watch's design dances, with a thrilling animation every hour.

Harry Winston's Midnight Moon

Phase won Fashion Watch of the Year. The awards, hosted by Watch World, were staged at the Pullman Hotels in Gurgaon, India in October. The international jury included former India cricket captain Ravi Shastri and fashion designer Priyadarshini Rao. Movie stars Neha Dhupia, Preity Zinta, Prateik and others added Bollywood glamour.

{ RING OF GLORY } ○

Dubbed as the "Industry Oscars", the Premier Middle East Watches Jewellery and Pens Awards in Bahrain has awarded Nada G with the highly coveted 'Young Arab Designers: Best Innovative Design Award'.

This honour was attributed to the bespoke jewellery piece 'Fusion Ring'. As innovative as it is elegant, the 'Fusion Ring' is an extraordinary piece that is a blend of two of Nada G's iconic pieces 'Aya' and 'Matrix' that were also nominated for awards at the ceremony.

The exquisite ring combines two half rings; one side is beautifully encrusted with diamonds while the other gloriously complements it with brushed gold.

This award closely follows the JSK's Rising Star Las Vegas award and the Editor's Choice award for Originality from International Jewellery London that Nada G has already received this year alone.

With striking designs that are edgy and timeless, it is no wonder Nada G's fine jewellery has captured the hearts of an international audience.

Nada G boutique is located in Gemmayzeh and in the Beirut Souks. For more information you can go to: www.nadag.com
