These colourful jewellery pieces that will see you through the end of year festivities

BY YASHNA CHOPRA, PRIYANKA KATYAN

Time away by my diamonds, along spending precious and precious moments, which jewellery you'll want to wear it every day.

The finishing touch to any festive outfit? A piece of statement jewellery. Party season might be looking very different this season, but a little pop of colour goes a long way. We're all about sunshine and rainbows as hues take over this season. Whether an intimate gathering, a Zoom party or a little pick-me-up on mundane mornings, we have you covered.

A pair of colourful earrings can instantly spruce up your outfit. Multicoloured sapphires and diamonds set in 18K gold earrings by Reus Oberoi Luxury Jewellery can transform the most basic outfit into an evening-appropriate number. Looking for something more delicate? 'Eventail' earrings by Tabbah will work well with a romantic blouse and a pair of black pants. While gold might be the preferred choice for some, gold earrings pack an equally stylish punch. Hazoorilal by Sandeep Narang's uncut polki diamonds and navratna set in 22K gold earrings make for a good invest.

Those who love chokers can count on diamonds, sapphires, pearls, tourmalines and aquamarines set in an 18K gold necklace by Sohyasachi Heritage Jewellery. The timeless piece can be styled with a LBD for a house party or even with a classic black sari paired with a sexy blouse. If multicolour gems is what you are looking for Home of MB's multicolour gems and diamonds set in gold necklaces is just right for you. Those who wish to take the less-is-more route can check out Diamond and navratna necklace and matching earrings set by Hazoorilal Legacy South Extension. Scroll down to check out our edit now.
